The campaign is to seek voter approval for the City of Bryant to re-issue $23 million in bonds, without raising taxes. The original bond issue was passed by Bryant voters in 2006.
This bond-re-issue will allow Bryant to continue moving forward by making critical progress in public safety, ease of travel, economic development, and quality of life, without raising taxes.
The continued growth of Bryant requires additional roadway infrastructure to relieve north-south congestion and improve motor vehicle and pedestrian access, connectivity, and safety. To accomplish this, the $23 million bond re-issue will provide $14 million in funding for the construction of a new, north-south roadway extending from the I-30 overpass adjacent to Echo Lake Boulevard to the north and Raymar Road to the south. The new roadway will connect Highway 5 and I-30 to Hill Farm Road. The continued growth of Bryant requires increasing city-wide public safety through effective first-responders. To accomplish this, the $23 million bond re-issue will provide $5 million in funding for two new fire stations, replacing Station 2 and Station 3. The continued growth of Bryant requires improvement in the overall quality of life for individuals and families. To accomplish this, the $23 million bond re-issue will provide $4 million in funding for parks and recreation improvements, including the Center at Bishop Park and area sports fields.
